

Education

Web development with Ruby on Rails -- 2019 (The Hacking Project)

- Ruby on Rails development intensive course
- Delivered a final project in prod within a team
- Main technologies covered: Ruby, Rails, PostgreSQL, basic of front-end

Business school Master in Management -- 2012-2016 (ESCP Europe)

- Grande Ecole degree, two exchanges (Berlin, DE and Boston, US)
- Main focus: financial/cost analyses, audit, supply chain and operations management

Bachelor in Translation -- 2008-2012 (Beijing Language and Culture University)

Skills

- Ruby, Rails, HTML/CSS/JavaScript(Ajax & JQuery), Postgres
- Heroku, Gitlab CI, Redis, Sidekiq
- Minitest, Git, TDD
- French (bilingual), English (C1 equivalence), Chinese (native)

Project Experience

Bold SI (see Malt mission detail)

- MVP for a law firm to collect, stock and reuse client information
- 3-month development as full-stack developer within team of 3
- Main contributions: API integration, docx handling

Lucky Link (repo)

- "Eventbrite-like", final project for The Hacking Project course
- Dev team of 4: 2 for front-end and 2 for back-end
- Main contributions: access control, test (Minitest, 94% covered)
- Trello schedule, two meetings per week with external project holder

Colab (repo)

- Mono-page rails app to manage task lists that allow collaboration
- Developed alone from A to Z, front and back

Also contribute to the translation of Kubernetes docs from English to French.

Previous Experiences

Two-year experience in management control in international environment. Familiar with sectors such as publishing, insurance, real estate and logistics.

Regular performance follow-up and analyses
Reportings including budget, for inner and executive use
Hypothesis-based profitability studies for investment opportunities
Problem-oriented workshop organization and animation

Pastime

Theater, museum and gallery, salon and folk dance, handcraft, volunteering